Course Description

This course, taught exclusively in Spanish, will analyze the problems encountered by European businesses when promoting products and services in international markets. Special emphasis will be placed on European corporate case studies and the analysis of both successful and unsuccessful attempts to penetrate international markets.

Learning Objectives

Students will learn how international consumers, agents and distributors react to foreign products. The class will be taught through a series of lectures and teamwork exercises centered around actual business case scenarios. This course through stimulating the student to participate, tries to make students understand the problems of the International Relations in business and the necessity of group work in order to get the best results.

Course Prerequisites

4 semesters of college-level Spanish (or equivalent) and 3 semesters of college-level micro- or macroeconomics, accounting, finance, management, marketing, or statistics. Students need to have a GPA of at least 2.5.

Methods of Instruction

The course will be divided into three sections: theory, group work and company visits. The first section of the course will focus on related marketing concepts and real-life examples of Spanish firms attempting to penetrate international markets, as well as, foreign organizations attempting to penetrate the Spanish market. The second section of the class will focus on group projects, where students will be designing performance indicators to measure the effectiveness of marketing campaigns for products selling in international markets. The third section will entail a series of onsite visits to companies dedicated to the exportation and sale of products in international markets.

Each topic presented in class will follow a similar format:

- 1) Explanation of theoretical concepts to create a basis for understanding the subject presented.
- 2) Application of theoretical concepts explained in class using examples from case studies of European businesses competing in international markets.

- 3) Group work exercises (3 to 4 people maximum) under the guidance of the professor and the case studies presented in each chapter.

Assessment and Final Grade

CIEE classes are not graded on a curve nor is there extra credit work. The final grade will be based upon the following criteria:

Homework / Assignments	15%
First Exam	25%
Second Exam	35%
Cases study	20%
Classroom participation	5%

Course Requirements

Homework / Assignments: In class, groups of 2-3 students will plan and present a final project. It will consist of an "International Marketing Plan" based on the commercialization of a product or service USA to Spain or vice versa.

First Exam: The midterm exam will include content from modules I, II and III. The first part of the exam consists of approximately 15 multiple choice questions worth 85% of the grade. The second part of the text will be an extended response question worth 15% of the grade.

Second Exam: The final exam will include content from modules I, II, III, IV, V y VI. The first part of the exam consists of approximately 15 multiple choice questions worth 85% of the grade. The second part of the text will be an extended response question worth 15% of the grade.

Cases study: International Marketing includes five case students that students will analyze, present and debate in class in small groups.

Classroom participation: The active participation in class of the students will be highly valued.

Company visit: The professor of this course "International Marketing" and the CIEE staff will organize a company visit for the students in the class. The attendance is totally mandatory, and an absence will be considered a fault. Please see calendar.

Attendance policy

Students are not allowed to miss class for unjustified reasons. For each unexcused absence, the participation portion of the grade will be lowered. Hence, it will be very difficult to receive a 100 in the class. Please keep this in mind. If a student misses class twice without a valid excuse (a note from a physician in the event of an illness), then the professor will automatically lower the final grade by 5 points (on a 100-point scale) for each class missed thereafter. Students with 6 or more absences will fail the course.

Students should arrive to class on time. Arriving more than 15 minutes late for a class will count as an unexcused absence. Please note that an excused absence is one that is accompanied by a doctor's note: signed stamped and dated. Travelling and/or travel delays are not considered valid reasons for missing class.

* Notes from a physician will only be valid and admitted by the Program Manager if the doctor confirms that the visit could not have been arranged at another time, or that the student was too ill to attend class that day.

Academic Honesty

Students are expected to act in accordance with their university and CIEE's standards of conduct concerning plagiarism and academic dishonesty. Use of online translators for work in Spanish will result in an automatic failure.
