Course Description

The objective of this course is to familiarize the student with one of the most complex, dimensioned phenomena today: the role of the EU as a global player in an especially connected world. The fundamental objective of this course is for the student to gain a detailed understanding of the EU as one of the principle figures in the sphere of international relations today. The exterior dimension of this international organization justifies the necessity to analyze the different instruments it uses to continually make itself more visible and its role more powerful in an international world.

Methodology

Given the diverse nature of this course, as well as the academic backgrounds of the students, the methodology will be simple, yet ambitious. We are facing a complex reality, partly unknown by the European citizen, but with great potential, especially relevant in the role to be played by the EU in the coming years. This has led the course to be conducted in a way that illustrates the what, why, and how for the student, not just about the EU's foreign relations, but also each of its most significant elements: the economic aspect of its foreign relations, as well as the equally complex and relevant political aspect.

In the first, the economic aspect, the EU's role as an indisputable economic giant in relation to the Common Trade Policy, the Development Cooperation Policy, and in its measure, the new European Neighborhood Policy (ENP) stands out; whereas, in the second, the political aspect, especially important elements for the EU's present and future stand out, such as the emerging European Defense Policy, and the complex elements that make it up (Petersberg Missions, Solidarity Clauses, and the Clause of Mutual Assistance). Equally important, transversal topics to the EU's foreign relations will be studied, given the profile of the students in this course, such as the relations between the EU and NATO, as well as EU-US relations.

Assessment and Final Grade

Evaluation will be ongoing and special interest will be placed on student participation. One of the components of the final grade will be participation (25%).

There will be two exams, a midterm and final exam. Each will consist of a series of questions about a written text of audiovisual, together with other more concrete questions in which the student will show that he or she does not confuse concepts or ties related to the foreign relations of the EU and Spain.

CIEE classes are not graded on a curve nor is there extra credit work. The final grade will be based upon the following criteria:

- Mid-term Exam: 25%
- Final Exam: 25%
- Both exams will have the same format: mandatory short answer questions, questions that need elaboration (to choose from various topics provided by the professor)
- Projects: 25%
- Throughout the course, the student should choose a topic they are interested in to complete a specialized project. The guidelines of this project will be indicated by the professor individually depending on the topic selected.
- Attendance and participation: 25%
- The students will present (in alphabetical order) a news press report related to the theme of the course. The number of news reports presented will depend on the number of students in the class.
- Presentations in class as well as the outside of class activities will be calculated equally.

Additionally, the student will be required to complete a series of mandatory readings which will also be included on the exam, apart from the written texts (mostly taken from newspapers and specialized magazines) and audiovisual material (debates, documentaries, films, or clips) which will be used in class to complement the lecture material.

Attendance policy

Students are not allowed to miss class for unjustified reasons. For each unexcused absence, the participation portion of the grade will be lowered. Hence, it will be very difficult to receive a 100 in the class. Please keep this in mind.

If a student misses class once without a valid excuse (a note from a physician in the event of an illness), then the professor will automatically lower the final grade by 5 points (on a 100-point scale) for each class missed thereafter. Students with 6 or more unexcused absences will fail the course. Students should arrive to class on-time. Arriving more than 15 minutes late for a class will count as an unexcused absence.

Please note that an excused absence is one that is accompanied by a doctor's note: signed stamped and dated. Travelling and/or travel delays are not considered valid reasons for missing class.

Academic honesty

Students are expected to act in accordance with their university and CIEE's standards of conduct concerning plagiarism and academic dishonesty. Use of online translators for work in Spanish will result in an automatic failure.

Linguistic Resource Center

Academic honesty is fundamental to our class. Students are encouraged to use the writing center, but they must do their own work and must not use translators or auto-correct programs.
