CIEE Prague, Czech Republic

Course Name: International Reporting
Course Number: JOUR 3001 PRAG
Programs offering course: CES, CNMJ
Language of instruction: English
U.S. Semester Credits: 3
Contact Hours: 45
Term: Spring 2020

Course Description
This hands-on, practical journalism course provides an unrivaled opportunity to learn the craft of the foreign correspondent right here in the Czech Republic. You will discover what makes foreign reporting different from domestic reporting by DOING IT. That means focusing on the issues foreign reporters frequently cover in the Czech Republic and other transitional countries including education, health, gender, history, the arts, corruption, politics, drugs, minorities, tourism, and intriguing personalities. You will have a chance to fine-tune your news and feature writing, reporting and interviewing skills in four well-researched articles. We will continuously review current foreign reportage in a variety of media to see what we can glean from the best and the worst. Stimulating debates on style, ethics, and story structure are guaranteed. Guest speakers will be real, live foreign correspondents from outlets such as Bloomberg, the Wall Street Journal, and the BBC. There will be visits to political hot spots (Parliament, Radio Free Europe) and possibly other sites representing journalistic areas of interest. The class is covered via lectures, reading material, class speakers, discussion, and exciting field trips.

SPECIAL NOTE: This class is by necessity a hybrid, addressing the needs, experience and abilities of journalism majors as well as non-journalism majors. To try to accommodate both groups, we will review some basic reporting and writing techniques. However, non-journalism majors are expected to consult the instructor and do extra reading if needed to establish their knowledge of journalism fundamentals and style. Those with no journalistic writing experience will be graded on their level of improvement in the course and need not worry about their lack of journalism background.

FLEXIBILITY: Changes in class topics and special events reflect the unpredictability of the news cycle. You might get a note from me 24 hours before class that we are going to meet at a ministry or school instead of in the classroom. Those who are seeking a class where the syllabus is followed word for word with few surprises should probably not enroll in this course.

Learning Objectives
By the end of this course the students will be able to:
• apply the basic reporting skills of a foreign correspondent
• apply the basic journalistic writing skills of a foreign correspondent
• apply interviewing techniques used by foreign correspondents
• use research and networking skills applied by foreign correspondents
• complete four articles using the above skills and techniques."

Course Prerequisites
Students should have an interest in learning how to write in a non-academic style within the requirements of journalistic practice. The class requires initiative outside the classroom to chase down interviews and contact interviewees. Students should be motivated to develop contacts and interview total strangers with their professor’s support.

Methods of Instruction
You will develop journalistic skills through practicing reporting, writing, and interviewing. We will conduct mock interviews in class as well as street interviews. Classroom work is based mostly on discussion of articles and techniques as well as lectures about hot journalistic topics such as minorities and education for foreign correspondents within the Czech context. We will meet top journalists in the country at Bloomberg, Reuters, BBC, and Radio Free Europe. We will also meet top politicians at the Senate and gain an understanding of Czech life in terms of human rights and education. Students will have a chance to pursue their area of interest by contacting politicians, environmentalists, artists, and whomever is appropriate for a timely journalistic endeavor. The class style is provocative, proactive, and participatory. We workshop our written assignments in class to foster improvement. We read articles by the best professionals in class to dissect their style and apply their methods to our own work.

Assessment and Final Grade
- Class participation/preparation (showing awareness of readings in class): 20%
- Article 1: Short news: 10%
- Article 2: Profile: 20%
- Article 3: Short Feature: 20%
- Article 4: Rewrite of Feature /Profile: 30%

Course Requirements
Students are required to write a practice news article as well as a graded news article (both 500-600 words) about a current development in the Czech Republic that includes quotations garnered from interviews as well as background information obtained through research. This is usually done in a group so that students can help each other with interviews. Students are also required to write a profile article of a Czech person of interest and a feature article on a social trend. Both stories require in-person interviews with experts as well as subjects who are making waves in Czech society. We work together as a class to find appropriate interviews. At the end of the semester students must rewrite either their profile or feature for their final project.

Homework assignments consists of both assigned READINGS and RESEARCH. Although the assigned reading might consist of 5-20 pages a week, you will be required to pursue reading material via the Web on your own as part research for your articles. The research requires seeking out past articles on relevant subjects. There is reading for every class (see below) as well as some practice exercises per the syllabus.
All readings are REQUIRED. Readings are to be done before the following class. In addition to the readings, you will be required to monitor foreign news reports in on-line and in magazines and newspapers. STUDENTS MUST READ RADIO PRAGUE (radio.cz) and THE PRAGUE MONITOR EVERY DAY. ALSO SEE Aktualne, http://Aktualne.centrum.cz/czechnews/, THE ENGLISH-LANGUAGE SECTION. CHECK OUT THE PRAGUE POST (WEEKLY) AND POSTS ON PRAGUE.TV AND EXPATS.CZ TO FIND OUT HOT TOPICS. THERE WILL BE REGULAR QUIZZES ON WHAT IS COVERED IN THE PRAGUE MONITOR, www.praguemonitor.com.

CIEE Prague Class Participation Policy
Assessment of students’ participation in class is an inherent component of the course grade. Participation is valued as meaningful contribution in the digital and tangible classroom, utilizing the resources and materials presented to students as part of the course. Students are required to actively, meaningfully and thoughtfully contribute to class discussions and all types of in-class activities throughout the duration of the class. Meaningful contribution requires students to be prepared, as directed, in advance of each class session. This includes valued or informed engagement in, for example, small group discussions, online discussion boards, peer-to-peer feedback (after presentations), interaction with guest speakers, and attentiveness on co-curricular and outside-of-classroom activities.

Students are responsible for following the course content and are expected to ask clarification questions if they cannot follow the instructor’s or other students’ line of thought or argumentation.

The use of electronic devices is only allowed for computer-based in-class tests, assignments and other tasks specifically assigned by the course instructor. Students are expected to take notes by hand unless the student is entitled to the use of computer due to his/her academic accommodations. In such cases the student is required to submit an official letter issued by his/her home institution specifying the extent of academic accommodations.

Class participation also includes students’ active participation in Canvas discussions and other additional tasks related to the course content as specified by the instructor.

Students will receive a partial participation grade every three weeks.

CIEE Prague Attendance Policy
Regular class attendance is required throughout the program, and all absences are treated equally regardless of reason for any affected CIEE course. Attendance policies also apply to any required co-curricular class excursions or events, as well as Internship.

Students who transfer from one CIEE class to another during the add/drop period will not be considered absent from the first session(s) of their new class, provided they were marked present for the first session(s) of their original class. Otherwise, the absence(s) from the original class carry over to the new class and count against the grade in that class.

Missing classes will lead to the following penalties:
90-minute semester classes:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Number of 90-minute classes</th>
<th>Equivalent percentage of the total course hours missed</th>
<th>Minimum penalty</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>one to two 90-minute classes</td>
<td>up to 10%</td>
<td>no penalty</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>three 90-minute classes</td>
<td>10.1–15%</td>
<td>reduction of the final grade by 3%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>four 90-minute classes</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>six and more 90-minute classes</td>
<td>more than 20%</td>
<td>automatic course failure and possible expulsion</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

180-minute semester classes:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Number of 180-minute classes</th>
<th>Equivalent percentage of the total course hours missed</th>
<th>Minimum penalty</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>one 180-minute class</td>
<td>up to 10%</td>
<td>no penalty</td>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Persistent absenteeism (students approaching 20% of the total course hours missed, or violating the attendance policy in more than one class) will result in a written warning, a notification to the student’s home school, and possibly a dismissal from the program.

Missing more than 20% of the total class hours will lead to a course failure, and potential program dismissal. This is a CIEE rule that applies to all CIEE courses and is in line with the Participant Contract that each CIEE student signs before arriving on-site.

Late arrival to class will be considered a partial (up to 15 minutes late) or full (15 or more minutes late) absence. Three partial absences due to late arrivals will be regarded as one full class absence.

Students must notify their professor and Program Coordinators (PC) beforehand if they are going to miss class for any reason and are responsible for any material covered in class in their absence.
If missing a class during which a test, exam, the student’s presentation or other graded class assignments are administered, make-up assignment will only be allowed in approved circumstances, such as serious medical issues. In this case, the student must submit a local doctor’s note within 24 hours of his/her absence to the PC, who will decide whether the student qualifies for a make-up assignment. Doctor’s notes may be submitted via e-mail or phone (a scan or a photograph are acceptable), however the student must ensure that the note is delivered to the PC.

Should a truly extraordinary situation arise, the student must contact the PC immediately concerning permission for a make-up assignment. Make-up assignments are not granted automatically! The PC decides the course of action for all absence cases that are not straightforward. Always contact the PC with any inquiry about potential absence(s) and the nature thereof.

Personal travel (including flight delays and cancelled flights), handling passport and other document replacements, interviews, volunteering and other similar situations are not considered justifiable reasons for missing class or getting permission for make-up assignments.

For class conflicts (irregularities in the class schedule, including field trips, make-up classes and other instances), always contact the Academic Assistant to decide the appropriate course of action.

Course attendance is recorded on individual Canvas Course Sites. Students are responsible for checking their attendance regularly to ensure the correctness of the records. In case of discrepancies, students are required to contact the Academic Assistant within one week of the discrepancy date to have it corrected. Later claims will not be considered.

CIEE staff does not directly manage absences at FAMU and ECES, but they have similar attendance policies and attendance is monitored there. Grade penalties may result from excessive absences.

CIEE Academic Honesty Policy

CIEE subscribes to standard U.S. norms requiring that students exhibit the highest standards regarding academic honesty. Cheating and plagiarism in any course assignment or exam will not be tolerated and may result in a student failing the course or being expelled from the program. Standards of honesty and norms governing originality of work differ significantly from country to country. We expect students to adhere to both the American norms and the local norms, and in the case of conflict between the two, the more stringent of the two will preside. Three important principles are considered when defining and demanding academic honesty. These are related to the fundamental tenet that one should not present the work of another person as one’s own.

The first principle is that final examinations, quizzes and other tests must be done without assistance from another person, without looking at or otherwise consulting the work of another person, and without access to notes, books, or other pertinent information (unless the professor has explicitly announced that a particular test is to be taken on an “open book” basis).
The second principle applies specifically to course work: the same written paper may not be submitted in two classes. Nor may a paper for which you have already received credit at your home institution be submitted to satisfy a paper requirement while studying overseas.

The third principle is that any use of the work of another person must be documented in any written papers, oral presentations, or other assignments carried out in connection with a course. This usually is done when quoting directly from another’s work or including information told to you by another person. The general rule is that if you have to look something up, or if you learned it recently either by reading or hearing something, you have to document it.

The penalty ranges from an F grade on the assignment, failure in the course to dismissal from the program. The Academic Director is consulted and involved in decision making in every case of a possible violation of academic honesty.
