Course Description

This course will analyze Human Resources Management (HRM) in an international context. Essentially, we will discuss how managers perform the hiring, selection, training and motivation of workers in different countries. We will analyze HRM using different perspectives from multiple disciplines: management, economics, sociology, social psychology and the law but most of all considering HRM as a fundamental strategic tool for the firm. Correspondingly, HRM strategy design corresponds to a manager; it is not a specialty of the “personnel” department.

As a course of International HRM, we will mostly consider European and Spanish firms case studies and compare them to the usual counterpart cases from American firms. We will also discuss recent findings from experimental economics for compensation policy and motivation.

Learning Objectives

The course aims at developing the necessary skills about how to:
- Develop a human resources strategy consistent with business strategy.
- Attract, select, evaluate and develop talent.
- Motivate in many ways and reward performance.
- Understand and administer careers.
- Manage communication within the workplace.

Course Prerequisites

3 semesters of college-level micro- or macroeconomics, accounting, finance, management, or statistics.

Methods of Instruction

The course will be taught in English, lectures will be presented in PowerPoint slides, we will discuss some films and a guest lecturer or a fieldtrip, There will a 30 minute class debate in every class, sometimes to discuss a Harvard Business School cases, a short newspaper article or case.

Course Requirements

Midterm and Final Exams
The exam includes multiple choice questions, true-false questions with short explanations and a longer essay question about a short case/article provided in the exam. Each exam will last 80 minutes.

Class Participation
Students are expected and encouraged to participate in class discussion, do homework and perform short quizzes. Readings are assigned on a weekly basis.

Case and article discussions
Students are expected to answer some three or four basic questions about the cases to be discussed in class.

Term Paper Presentation
The term paper will be a short description or analysis of the HR policies of a firm, in no more than eight pages, with double spaced lines. In week six, the students will present a case of a firm (selected by them) to introduce and motivate the paper to get feedback from the class and the professor. The main findings and conclusions will be presented in class during the last two weeks of the course with a draft. The final and definite version of the paper will be handed in the day of the final exam.

CIEE Barcelona Attendance Policy
Students are expected to attend all scheduled class sessions on time and be prepared for the day's class activities. CIEE does not distinguish between justified or unjustified absences, whether due to sickness, personal emergency, inevitable transportation delay and/or other impediments. You are considered responsible of managing your own absences. Please keep in mind that exams, paper submission dates, presentations and any other course work deadlines cannot be changed.

No academic penalty will be applied if students miss up to 3 class sessions. If students miss up to 5 class sessions, students’ final course grade will drop 5 points out of 100 on the CIEE grade scale for each additional absence beyond 3 (for example a 95 will become a 90 if they reach the 4th absence, and an 85 if they reach the 5th absence). Students will automatically fail the course if they miss more than 20% of total class hours (i.e. if they exceed 5 absences).
For students who miss up to 20% of the total course hours due to extenuating circumstances, the Academic Director may allow for exceptions to the local attendance policy based on documentation such as proof of bereavement, religious observances, hospitalization etc.

Students arriving more than 10 minutes late to the class will be considered absent for a day.
