Course Description

This course deals with the issues that today's international marketers face by examining the strategic and tactical decisions made by the marketing manager and the challenges of adapting to the increasing globalization of businesses. Challenges like staying true to global strategy while engaging local consumers and coping with local competitors and constraints are some of the topics covered in the course.

Learning Objectives

This course has two major interrelated objectives:

- 1) to enable the student to develop his/her international marketing judgment and skills and
- 2) to provide the student the necessary tools to effectively manage the international marketing planning process.

Course Prerequisites

4 semesters of college-level Spanish (or equivalent). 3 semesters of college-level micro- or macroeconomics, accounting, finance, management, or statistics. One course taken in principles of marketing and/or marketing management is recommended.

Methods of Instruction

The course will be taught using theoretical lectures, case studies, expert guest speakers presenting real life experiences, readings and videos from academic and professional sources such as online and offline business news, class discussion and field trips to Spanish companies and organizations... and a group final project to be presented on the last session.

Field Trips: We will visit a Spanish organization to understand the activity and goals they undertake, and we will explore the Barcelona shopping behavior in order to have a hands-on experience in analyzing the local consumer and the business innovation environment. These field trips are mandatory.

Assessment and Final Grade

The final grade will be based on the following:

1.	Midterm Exam:	20%
2.	Final Exam:	25%
3.	Individual Exercises/Case Studies	15%
4.	Term Project (25% report+5% presentation)	30%
5.	Class Participation (hand-ins & class discussions)	10%

Each assignment will have different specific requirements, but grades will be determined by the following general criteria:

- Demonstration of understanding of material
- Depth of analysis
- Critical thinking skills
- Coherence and clarity in communication (written and oral)

Course Requirements

Midterm and Final Exam

The exams are designed to assess student comprehension and ability to articulate core concepts related to International Marketing. In each exam students will answer un part composed of 25 multiple-choice questions and a second part composed of four short-answer questions related to topics covered in class.

Case Studies

The case method is one of the most effective pedagogical tools to sharpen your analytical and decision-making skills, as it requires you to be an active participant in Marketing decisions. Cases intend to give you practice in assembling data, supporting and discussing decisions. Moreover, the case method provides a vehicle by which to apply theories, concepts, and frameworks that we discuss in class or which you find in the assigned readings. Finally, the discussion constitutes an opportunity to defend your position and to learn from others, by listening to their comments and criticisms. Everything on a “safe environment”, where there are low risks when mistakes are made. Classrooms are our training environments to prepare you for business challenges.

Students must participate in the discussions that will take place in class. Throughout the course there will be several case studies, a few of them in film format. It is extremely important that students prepare and analyze these cases prior to the class debate.

Group term project

The project has been designed to provide a first learning experience. Each group will assume the role of a team of marketing managers who will be responsible to develop a product that is unique to the Spanish market (creative thinking is highly encouraged). They will independently make all the decisions involved in this process. The project is divided into two phases.

Class Participation

Participation is valued as meaningful contribution in the classroom, utilizing the resources and materials presented to students as part of the course. Meaningful contribution requires students to be prepared in advance of each class session and to have regular attendance. Students must clearly demonstrate they have engaged with the materials as directed, for example, through classroom discussions, online discussion boards, peer-to-peer feedback (after presentations), and attentiveness on co-curricular and outside-of-classroom activities.

The quality of what is said and the quality of one's listening and responsiveness to others are important components for the evaluation of class participation. Some of the criteria for evaluating effective class participation include:

1. Is the participant prepared? Do comments show evidence of analysis of the case? Do comments add to our understanding of the situation? Does the participant go beyond simple repetition of case facts without analysis and conclusions? Do comments show an understanding of theories, concepts, and analytical devices presented in class lectures or reading materials?
2. Is the participant a good listener? Are the points made relevant to the discussion? Are they linked to the comments of others? Is the participant willing to interact with other class members?
3. Is the participant an effective communicator? Are concepts presented in a concise and convincing way?

CIEE Barcelona Attendance Policy

Students are expected to attend all scheduled class sessions on time and be prepared for the day's class activities. CIEE does not distinguish between justified or unjustified absences, whether due to sickness, personal emergency, inevitable transportation delay and/or other impediments. You are considered responsible of managing your own absences. Please keep in mind that exams, paper submission dates, presentations and any other course work deadlines cannot be changed.

No academic penalty will be applied if students miss up to 3 class sessions. If students miss up to 5 class sessions, students' final course grade will drop 5 points out of 100 on the CIEE grade scale for each additional absence beyond 3 (for example a 95 will become a 90 if they reach the 4th absence, and an 85 if they reach the 5th absence). Students will automatically fail the course if they miss more than 20% of total class hours (i.e. if they exceed 5 absences).

For students who miss up to 20% of the total course hours due to extenuating circumstances, the Academic Director may allow for exceptions to the local attendance policy based on documentation such as proof of bereavement, religious observances, hospitalization etc.

Students arriving more than 10 minutes late to the class will be considered absent for a day.
